

ME 250 SEMINAR: WRITING WORKSHOP

Grammar Refresher (January 14)

This workshop covers the basic grammatical concepts of the English language, including sentence structure, pronoun usage, article usage, and tips for expanding a discipline-specific vocabulary. All are welcome.

Journal Article Basics (January 21)

Based on Wendy Belcher's popular book, Writing Your Journal Article in 12 Weeks, this workshop reviews basic journal article structure, tips for revising and submission.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 2021 | ZOOM | 11:00 AM - 11:50 AM

Her undergrad degree is a BA in Literature with a concentration in creative writing, which she received from UC Santa Cruz (go banana slugs!). She then went on to grad school to get an MFA in Creative Writing at Sarah Lawrence College, a small liberal arts school in New York. While there, she had one of her first opportunities to teach writing, and she loved it. She then went on to teach writing at SUNY Purchase and also worked in their learning center. Christina has loved writing since she was a kid – both as an imaginative act but also as a collaboration, working with others to help understand their points of view better.

More information about the Graduate Writing Center can be found here: <https://gwc.ucr.edu>

Christina Trujillo, MFA
UCR Graduate Writing Center